Celebrating Our Fathers at Kirby Pines

It was more than ninety years ago that citizens of Spokane, Washington first recognized the third Sunday in June as Father's Day. In fact, it was June 19, 1910, that the mayor of Spokane proclaimed it so. President Calvin Coolidge publicly supported the idea in 1924, but Father's Day was not presidentially proclaimed until 1966, and the third Sunday in June was not assured as the official day of recognition, until 1972. This is certainly a different set of events when compared to Mother's Day, which was legislated by congress in 1914. Regardless of why it took so long for the United States of America to formally recognize a day to honor our fathers, as a nation we have been doing so from our inception, beginning with George Washington, the father of our nation.

It is easy to understand why George Washington was given this recognition, and why we hold him in such high esteem. He was after all, the person elected to lead individuals to develop a great country. His traits of leadership, fairness, and honesty are recorded in stories we eagerly translate into history.

Moreover, even though some of these stories have never been proven factual, we still hold on to them because they teach us to be better individuals.

When we break down these "historical stories", what we have left is genuine care, concern and a dream that a young nation might grow to be better and even greater. This is the same dream I believe all fathers have for their children, I know it is the dream my father had for his children, and a goal I try to achieve each day. In fact, even when I discovered some of his lessons were simply "stories", his traits of leadership, fairness and honesty remain as true to me as do George Washington's. So, to all our fathers, I wish a blessed and Happy Father's Day.

ON THE PINECONE COVER

Kirby Pines Pays Tribute To Our Wonderful Fathers

Mother's Day is always the biggest event of the year at Kirby Pines, but we realize that without our fabulous fathers, there would be no reason for such a celebration.

Dads are unique to every child. They can be strong, understanding, adaptable, dedicated, honest and proud. They are who you look up to and who you go to for worldly advice. They teach independence and courage and are often our protectors and providers. But most of all dads are the men who make us unique, too. So to all our dads, We Thank You!

The front cover features our own Art Sandvig, with his son, Scott. On the back is resident, Jim Smith with his grandsons, Mason and Grayson, doing a little fishing on the lake here at Kirby, and boy were they reeling them in! A big thanks goes out to these fathers and their families for helping us out for this month's issue.

Kirby Pines

Eve Baker

Born in Denver, Colorado, Evonne Baker (Eve) joins Kirby Pines from her prior home in Sun City Center, Florida. Married for 50 years to Donald Baker, their family is comprised of 4 children, 9 grandchildren, and a great grand due in August 2016. Don's military service was with the U.S. Navy during WWII, with the rank of Ensign. His professional career was in the field of Advertising, graduating from Penn State with a Liberal Arts Degree. In 1950, Penn State awarded Eve a Liberal Arts Degree, in Journalism. "Growing a family" was her first order of business (so to speak); Eve's career was a homemaker for their children. Don passed away in 2003.

Music from the "Big Band" era is preferred – easy listening to Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey, and others of that genre. Eve is a long-time volunteer in the Stephen Ministry – an ecumenical association of church members; after completing the required 50 hours of training, she also became a volunteer in Hospice Life Path.

Welcome to Kirby, Eve. Opportunities are abundant for someone with your training and experience in helping others - both those in hospice care and others who simply welcome a friend to talk with. We're glad you're here!

Betty Binkley

Betty Binkley came to Kirby Pines from her previous home in Memphis, TN. She and her husband, Jerry, were married for 65 years; they have 2 children, 4 grandchildren, and 4 great grands.

In 1949, Jerry graduated from Technical School as a structural steel detailer, and formed his own company, Memphis Structural Steel. In 1962, Memphis State awarded Betty a MA Degree in Education. She was a teacher in the Memphis City Schools for 23 years. Jerry passed away in 2016. Interests for Betty include Bible Study, Book Clubs, Yoga, and Tai Chi. Her music preferences are broad – from Country Western to Classical. Betty's love of travel includes a Mediterranean Cruise, visits to France, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Netherlands, England, Hawaii, and most all of the U. S.

Newly widowed – how does one reconstruct a life from 2 persons to a single entity? It's not easy, and many of our residents have faced that challenge and met it "head on". Time is needed for Betty's transition, and she will have people who will help her in this adjustment. Our community is replete with individuals who will become your new friends – your life will again be on a solid foundation. Welcome.

Joseph Dittmaier

We welcome Joseph and Marjorie Dittmaier to Kirby Pines. They come to us from their previous home in Caldonia. Their family consists of 3 children, 5 grandchildren, and 4 great grands. Marjorie attended Southern Illinois University for 3 years, but withdrew to turn attention to their children. Joseph's military service was 23 months with the U.S. Army Signal Corps, holding the rank of Private First Class. His basic training was at Ft. Leonard Wood in Missouri; then sent to Yokahama, Japan to radio school.

Joseph was a member of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. In addition to his skills as a master carpenter, Joseph also had expertise as a mill wright. A devoted father, he participated in scouting activities with his sons and purchased property to build the family home post-retirement. Marjorie has a special affinity for dogs of all breeds and sizes – 3 or 4 big dogs were a common sight at their property.

Moving from one's home into a LifeCare community is always a major decision and adjustment; for Joseph and Marjorie it was needful to have the special care that she requires. The Dittmaier journey is one many of us have taken. We wish them all good things.

Roy Laughlin

Born in Crenshaw, MS, Roy Laughlin joins Kirby Pines from his previous residence in Collierville, TN. He and his wife, Elaine, were married for 56 years and have 2 children and 4 grandchildren.

In 1958, the U. of Memphis awarded Roy a Master's Degree in Education, laying the groundwork for a career that covered 40 years in Memphis City Schools, including coaching several sports teams, teaching, and, ultimately, as Principal of Coleman Junior High and other schools. His military service was with the U.S. Army, with a rank of Corporal, spending 6 years with the Tennessee National Guard.

With summers off, Roy and his wife were able to travel across Europe and the U.S. Visiting Italy, Austria, Ireland, Russia, Estonia, Belgium and the Netherlands. When Elaine passed away in 2016, Roy moved to Kirby Pines. He remains a "sports" fanatic to this day. He also enjoys music from the "Big Band" era and brought with him to Kirby Pines a record player and treasured collection of vinyl records of favorite songs.

Get to know Roy Laughlin – good company and one who's looking forward to doing his part in enhancing our residential community.

Things Are Heating Up!

DRINK MORE WATER

Did you know water makes up about 50 to 60% of your body? True. Water is essential to life. Staying hydrated is important for our general health, too. Dehydration can be the result of exercise, certain medications, diarrhea, excessive sweating, breathing, and diseases such as diabetes. With the warm summer days ahead, it is easy to become dehydrated which can cause dry mouth, weakness, dizziness, headaches, heart pounding, cramping, confusion, low blood pressure, rapid, but weak pulse and fainting. Everyone knows—but many people seem to forget—that water is what sustains life. Here are some of the benefits of being hydrated: Drinking at least five 8-ounce glasses of water daily reduces the risk of fatal coronary heart disease among older adults. Being sufficiently hydrated also reduces the discomfort of constipation and improves balance and kidney function by reducing the risk of urinary tract infections. Water helps energize muscles. Cells that don't maintain their balance of fluids and electrolytes shrivel, which can result in muscle fatigue.

How much water is enough? A good formula for how much water is needed every day is to take one-third of the person's body weight in pounds and drink the equivalent number of ounces of water daily. For example, a 150-pound woman would need 50 ounces of water daily, or about 6 8-ounce glasses of water.

Don't wait until you feel thirsty to start drinking water: As we age, we are less aware of our thirst and our ability to regulate our body's fluid balance via kidneys decreases.

Helpful hints:

- Start your day with a glass of water before breakfast.
- Have a beverage with every snack and meal.
- Choose beverages you enjoy; you're likely to drink more liquid.
If you're watching calories, go for non-caloric beverages or water.
- Eat more fruits and vegetables. Their high water content will add to your hydration. About 20% of our fluid intake comes from foods.
- Keep a bottle of water with you in your car, at your desk, or in your bag.

So drink up, stay hydrated and stay well.

Don't forget we have a cool water dispenser in the Oasis when you come to exercise.

Learning About DEMENTIA

Did you know that dementia is not a specific disease? Dementia is actually a term used to describe a group of symptoms associated with a decline in memory or other thinking skills severe enough to interfere with one's every day life. There are several different types of dementia, including Alzheimer's Dementia, Parkinson's Dementia, Lewy-body Dementia, etc.

Alzheimer's is the most common form of dementia. Alzheimer's is a progressive, degenerative disorder that attacks the brain's nerve cells, or neurons, resulting in memory loss, loss of thinking and language skills, and behavioral changes. Like most diseases, Alzheimer's is more easily managed when a diagnosis is made early. The very first step to diagnosing this disease is LEARNING more about it and looking for the signs. There are ways to improve one's memory, and the process begins with YOU putting in the work.

Please join us on June 13th in the LCR to learn more about Alzheimer's. We will discuss the warning signs, risk factors, anatomy behind this disease, and the different types of Alzheimer's! If you have any questions please feel free to contact Jason Sparrow in the therapy office at 901-619-9996 or Allyson Boykin at 901-229-8396.

We would also like to extend a very warm welcome to our newest Speech Therapist, Lauren Whittington. We are glad she is on the RehabCare/Kirby Pines team. Welcome Lauren if/when you see her!

A Look At Our Fathers

A father is neither an anchor to hold us back, nor a sail to take us there, but a guiding light whose love shows us the way. - Author Unknown

Ben Cole

Ben was 27 years old when he married 25-year old Joy and they had two sons; the couple were members of the East Side Baptist Church. When their sons were born, Ben relied on the Bible to show him the way of training their children, with an emphasis on obedience (the truism of spare the rod and spoil the child). Ben did not believe in slapping or spanking but, if an offense was sufficiently serious, he would use a thin switch on their legs. The Coles moved out of the city, buying 8.5 acres in the country-side, sufficient for horses, cattle, and other live stock. He taught the children how to safely use a rifle, primarily for hunting, and safe use of hand guns as well. The children were members of the 4H Club and became skilled in the care and nurturing of cows and other animals. Grandchildren came along in due course and their teaching mirrored lessons learned from Grandpa Ben.

Andrew Cole, age 5, still owns this rifle today at age 30

Aidan Underwood

Aidan was 23 when he and Marjorie married; they were blessed with 2 sons and 3 daughters. As the father and “man of the house”, Aidan considered his basic responsibility to be putting food on the table; not to say that he did not play an active role in raising their children (including changing diapers when the mother was busy on other tasks). Food shopping for the family was based on a “good food budget” – food that was healthy and nutritious, Ben Jr., holding Morgan, Amy, holding Hudson, Joy and Ben Sr.

Married for 60 years, Joy passed away in 2012. Training the children by example, Ben gave them a frame-of-reference that will sustain them and their families for years to come. Children are a most precious asset – Ben exemplified the role of a father, namely, doing whatever it takes for the family.

and which minimized chances of developing medical issues such as high blood pressure and/or diabetes. The Underwood family was a “Catholic” family (his words), meaning that attendance at services and adherence to the church teachings laid the groundwork for the parents’ child-rearing philosophy. Neither he nor his wife believed in spanking or slapping their children when they misbehaved. Rather, Aidan assumed what he termed a “command presence” - an erect bearing, eyes fixed, and in firm voice stating the child’s behavior that was unacceptable. Aidan said the stance worked very well!

Family vacations were usually a 4-week stay on Prince Edward Island in the Canadian Maritimes, enjoying the lobster fishing, sandy beaches, and summer theater. Ten grandchildren and three great grandchildren have been added to the Underwood brood, bringing new challenges and pleasures to the family circle. When Marjorie passed away in 2012, Aidan became a resident of Kirby Pines.

David Walters

David was 25 when his daughter, Bonnie, was born; two+ years later his son, Reed, was born. What kind of father would he be? He helped shape his children’s understanding of their world as he lead by example – emphasizing elements of planning and performing tasks; to do it well, know what’s needed going into a project or situation. He was a hands-on Dad, regularly reading a variety of books to his young children, remembering the book “How Babies Were Made” being a favorite; their “library” was a choice selection of stories that steadily grew. His parenting role deepened when his marriage ended; being a single Dad had its challenges for child rearing. His children spent week-ends with him plus the summer months. At summer camp, in addition to making friends in their age groups, the children learned a good game of tennis, how to swim, and became proficient in soccer. Tension may arise when children live with one parent for a number of months, then live with the other parent for a number of months. It’s a workable paradigm if the interests of the children are uppermost for the divorced father and mother. Bonnie and Reed smoothly transitioned between residing with Dad and, then, with mother. Bonnie was the first to marry, but Reed soon followed. All of a sudden (it seemed) David became a grandfather to six precious grandchildren. A single Dad – doing it well; successful in taking on the challenge. The statement by American writer, Clarence Budington Kelland, best captures David’s approach to fathering: “my father didn’t tell me how to live. He lived and let me watch him do it.”

KEEPING HOME PLATE

Chris Sperry, baseball consultant and 18 year baseball coach at the University of Portland, has a most remarkable story about not only sport but life as well.

January, 1996, at the Opryland Hotel in Nashville, TN, the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) held its 52nd Annual Convention. A featured speaker was John Scolinos, a 78 year old coach who started his career in 1948 and was then five years into his retirement.

Scolinos received a standing ovation when he stepped to the convention podium to speak. To everyone's amazement he had a real home plate resting on his chest, held by a rope around his neck. He spoke for 25 minutes, never mentioning the home plate, causing some to think that at his age he just forgot about it, while others wondered if he had arrived from some mental institution. He stated, "I may be old but I'm not crazy. I want to share with you what I've learned in life... what I've learned about home plate in my 78 years."

Asking how many Little League coaches were at the convention Scolinos then presented the question, "How wide is home plate?" After a brief silence someone called out, "Seventeen inches!" Scolinos then asked the same question of all the Junior High coaches, Senior High coaches, College coaches, Minor League coaches and Major League coaches. From each group came the same answer, "Seventeen inches!"

Another question was asked, "What if a big league pitcher can't throw the ball over these seventeen inches?" He said the Baseball League would never say,

"That's okay. We'll make home plate eighteen inches, or nineteen, or twenty inches. We can even make it wider still, to 25 inches."

Scolinos then spoke of America and the world and described how so many were forgetting the standard and ever widening the width of home plate. He then turned the home plate hanging around his neck toward himself. On its white top with a black magic marker he sketched a house with chimney, windows and a door. As he turned home plate back toward the audience, his message emphasized how we have added to the principles and foundations of our homes many things that don't belong at all. Once again he drew on the house a flag and explained the widening efforts in our education and government. In these areas too, the old principles were being forgotten.

Lastly Scolinos drew a cross on the top of the house and sadly talked about the same influence being accepted by our churches and religious groups.

Closing his address this unique coach said, "If we fail to hold ourselves to a higher standard, a standard of what we know to be right, if we fail to hold our spouses and our children to the same standards, if we are unwilling or unable to provide a consequence when they do not meet the standard, and if our schools and churches and government fail to hold themselves accountable to those they serve, there is but one thing to look forward to..."

Then turning home plate around to show its dark backside he finished..."Dark days ahead!"

COACH JOHN SCOLINOS

Home plate is still seventeen inches. That cannot be said of so much in our life today. We should wake up to hear the call to stop widening what was given to us by our founding fathers and godly leadership. The principles of our Judeo/Christian heritage must not be forgotten. We can be silent no longer. The counsel of Scolinos from his years of coaching and life, and the directives from God through the Bible should challenge us to cherish the past, trust God in the present and leave to His control the future. Let's begin again to live from Matthew 6:33, "Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things will be added to you."

Till next time, Don Johnson, KP Chaplain

(1952) Cast: Gene Kelly,

Donald O'Connor, Debbie Reynolds

In 1927, Don Lockwood and Lina Lamont are a famous on-screen romantic pair. Lina, however, mistakes the on-screen romance for real love. Don has worked hard to get where he is today, with his former partner Cosmo. When Don and Lina's latest film is transformed into a musical, Don has the perfect voice for the songs. But Lina - well, even with the best efforts of a diction coach, they still decide to dub over her voice. Kathy Selden is brought in, an aspiring actress, and while she is working on the movie, Don falls in love with her. Will Kathy continue to "aspire", or will she get the break she deserves ?
