Celebrating Thirty-Two Years at Kirby Pines

So many residents and guests were present in September as we celebrated Kirby Pines' thirty-second anniversary that it seems fitting to reflect back on the celebration and the commitment selected for this year – Kindness.

Beginning with Thursday evening's blessing of the flag, the community was filled with excitement and pride. The actual flag raising ceremony on Friday had a large number of attendees and this event demonstrated our "kindness" as we reflected on the 14th anniversary of what has become known simply as 9/11.

The following day maintenance and ground employees busily prepared for the Lighting of the Lake ceremony, while still other employees began preparing a multitude of delicious foods for a reception later that night.

As dusk came closer, residents, guests and staff began gathering at the lake for what was to become another beautiful ceremony of lighting an individual candle in honor of each anniversary year for Kirby Pines. While we were very lucky and honored to have a resident representative for many of the thirty-two years available to physically light an anniversary candle; the years without a resident representative were ceremonially recognized by releasing white doves.

This annual event – The Lighting of the Lake – was yet another example of why Kirby Pines continues to be the only retirement community to have ever been voted and selected as the "best" retirement community in the southeast by readers of The Commercial Appeal.

Until next year, happy thirty-second anniversary.

Michael Escamilla,
Executive Director,
Kirby Pines

ON THE PINECONE COVER

Kirby Pines Gets Modern at The Dixon Gallery

With the beautiful weather still present and fall closing in, we decided to take a trip to Dixon Gallery and Gardens. The museum is currently being renovated, but the gardens set the canvas for the ambitious work of sculptor, Jun Kaneko.

Twenty-four of Kaneko's large-scale ceramic and bronze sculptures have been placed throughout the Dixon gardens, the most ambitious outdoor sculpture installation in Dixon history.

Betts

Dorothy Faye Betts (Faye) joins the Kirby Pines Residential Community from her previous home in Bartlett, TN. Tennessee became her home when she moved from Lubbock, Texas. Married for 15 years to Wayne Betts, the family consists of 5 children, 14 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren.

Her varied career includes 10 years as a Secretary at Harding Academy, 15 years as Bookkeeper for the Highland Church of Christ, and 15 years making drapes for an established client. She continues to use her expertise for sewing even into retirement. Attending ball games with her children and grandchildren is one of her favorite leisure activities, along with painting pictures.

We welcome Faye into our residential community. We guarantee that new friends will be made as she reaches out to her neighbors and others that she will meet in volunteer activities.

Charlene
Pasley

Born in Roswell, New Mexico, Charlene Pasley comes to Kirby Pines from her previous residence in Olive Branch, MS. She and her husband, Richard, were married for 55 years. The family consists of 3 children, 4 grandchildren, and 1 great grandson.

Charlene earned a Masters in Education from the Polytechnic State University in Pomona, California. She taught in the DeSoto County School System for 6 years, as a Special Education Teacher. General Electric employed her husband, rotating him through their offices in New York and California as well as their foreign offices in France, Italy, and Germany. Richard passed away in 2012.

She and her husband traveled through France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Belgium, Russia, Great Briton, Yugoslavia, the Netherlands, and Central America. Charlene's interests include Bible study, indoor plants, and music – classics and jazz.

Charlene, we are pleased that you opted to join our community. Good friends will be made over time and, no doubt, interest will be expressed to hear about your life in foreign countries. Welcome to a safe haven.

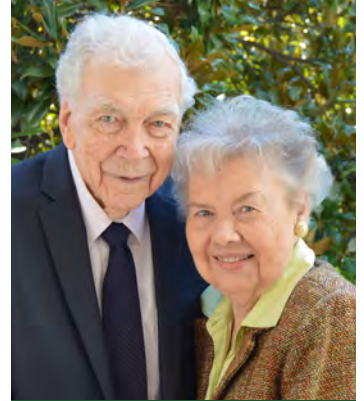

Lucy Inkster
Porter

Born in Mississippi, Lucy Porter comes to Kirby Pines from her previous home in Brandon, MS. Married to Jim Inkster for 49 years, they had 3 children and 11 grandchildren. Her husband passed away in 2009. In August 2015, she wed Reverend Everett Porter, a Kirby Pines resident of many years.

Her BS Degree in Math was awarded by Millsaps College and her career centered on computer programming. She was employed, in seriatim, by ATT, Battelle, and IBM. Leisure time interests include gardening, reading, and music – with the Sound of Music and other musicals being her favorite genre. Lucy's love of travel was satisfied, in part, by a 30-day train trip to the Northwest and into Canada, and a 45-day bus trip from Dallas through the Mid-Atlantic States. Foreign travel included Germany and Finland.

Lucy, welcome to our Kirby Pines Residential Community. You will find many volunteer opportunities, some that may tap into your computer programming expertise. New friends will be made – all told, life will be good. We wish you well.

Bob & Mary Jo
Williams

Bob and Mary Jo Williams, have been married for 64 years, they have 3 children and 4 grandchildren.

Bob was a Staff Sergeant in the Air Force during WWII, serving as an Official War Photographer in North Africa and Italy. When his military service ended, he was hired by the Memphis Commercial Appeal newspaper; with first assignments being “society” pictures, but he took his camera everywhere everyday, coming upon scenes that captured the imagination of the Commercial Appeal readers and his photos grew to be a favorite feature of the paper's readership. Mary Jo attended North-West Junior College in Senatobia, MS and Memphis State. She was a homemaker for the growing family; she also was a skilled and avid tennis player. Jo was a member of the Brooks Museum League and a docent at The Mallory Neely House. Bob retired as Photo Editor after 33 years at the Commercial Appeal, and they decided to move to Kirby Pines.

We are pleased that Bob and Mary Jo have joined our community. Get to know them – conversations will easily flow because “remembering when” is a favorite pastime for many of us.

Step Into the NuStep

Have you visited the Oasis recently? Exercise has been proven to improve physical and emotional health for people of all ages.

The most popular piece of equipment in the Oasis is called NuStep, The sitting position minimizes joint stress and lower back pain. This equipment promotes a natural walking motion while eliminating impact and stress on joints. Easy to operate and adjust to your specific height, weight, and level of endurance. You can keep track of your time while it automatically calculates your steps and calories burned. The NuStep is great for helping you lose weight or improve your strength and endurance in your arms and legs. If you have not been exercising for a while, the NuStep is a good beginning place. Because you are seated you don't have to worry about balance and yet it helps to strengthen some of the muscles needed to promote good balance. We have three NuStep machines (one is almost brand new)

We make appointments with the doctors, our hairdresser and lunch with friends. Why not schedule a visit to the Oasis 2-3 times a week? This is a great place to start your exercise routine. Prove to yourself that moderate exercise improves your health and well being. Mary Hand is in the Oasis Monday – Thursday from 8 am to noon. Make an appointment with her to assist you with the equipment and help you set up your exercise program.

Safety Tips and Warning Signs for Older Drivers

It's normal for our driving abilities to change as we age. By reducing risk factors and incorporating safe driving practices, many of us can continue driving safely long into our senior years. But we do have to pay attention to any warning signs that age is interfering with our driving safety and make appropriate adjustments. Even if you find that you need to reduce your driving or give up the keys, it doesn't mean the end of your independence. Seeking alternative methods of transportation can offer health and social benefits, as well as a welcome change of pace to life.

#1: Understand how aging affects driving

Everyone ages differently, so there is no arbitrary cutoff as to when someone should stop driving. However, older adults are more likely to receive traffic citations and get into accidents than younger drivers. In fact, fatal crash rates rise sharply after a driver has reached the age of 70. What causes this increase? As we age, factors such as decreased vision, impaired hearing, or slowed motor reflexes may become a problem. You may have a chronic condition that gradually worsens with time, or you may have to adjust to a sudden change, such as a stroke.

You may have driven your entire life and take great pride in your safety record, but as you age, it is critical that you realize your driving ability can change. To continue driving safely, you need to recognize that changes can happen, get help when they do, and be willing to listen if others voice concerns.

#2: Tips for safe senior driving

Aging does not automatically equal total loss of driving ability. There are many things you can do to continue driving safely, including modifying your car, the way you drive, and understanding and rectifying physical issues that may interfere with driving. 1) Drive defensively 2) Know your limitations 3) Listen to the concerns of others

#3: Benefits of not driving

Adjusting to life without a car may be challenging at first; most likely, you've been driving your whole life and it feels like quite a shock. It's normal to be frustrated, angry, or irritable. You might even feel ashamed or worry that you are losing your independence. However, it takes a lot of courage to stop driving and put the safety of yourself and others first. You may also find there are many benefits to living without a car that you may not have considered.

Morgan & Betty Fowler

FOREVER MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Morgan Fowler was born in 1922 to Edith Carrington Fowler and Joseph Arthur Fowler. His father worked for and, subsequently, bought out the Memphis Electric Company, changing the name to Fowler Electric Company; he also served as President of the National Association of Electrical Contractors. His mother was Chief Dietician at the West Tennessee Chest Disease Hospital.

Betty Fowler earned her RN Degree and worked at Baptist Hospital. Morgan received a BA Degree in Economics and Business Administration. He enlisted in the Army Reserves; was called up and assigned to the Signal Corps, being discharged in 1946 with rank of Sergeant. He received his JD Degree from the U. of Virginia and began his practice at McDonald, Kuhn, & McDonald. Appointed by Governor Frank Clement, Morgan served as Judge in the Memphis General Sessions Court, holding this position until retiring in 1986.

Married in 1948, Morgan and Betty had a son, Cary, and a daughter, Jo. We are familiar with careers in Law, Education, Nursing, and Business Administration, but their children opted for careers that focused on public service, in a certain sense of the term. Daughter, Jo, earned her BS Degree in Animal Science from the U. of Kentucky. Employed by Tyson Foods Corporation, she operated a Farrowing Farm comprised of more than 500 sows (swine/pigs). Son, Cary, earned a Ph.D. from Upsala U. in Sweden. He served as Executive Director of Global Crop Diversity Trust, located in Bonn, Germany. The Trust established a Seed Bank, located above the Artic Circle. The Trust and the Seed Bank are storing a wide variety of the world's seeds, ensuring availability to Nations in the event of massive total destruction of known food commodities.

Morgan and Betty Fowler moved to the Kirby Pines Retirement Community in 2013. Morgan's sister, Betsy French, lives at Kirby Pines as well; she is our Librarian. Morgan and Betty Fowler have been blessed with opportunities to "make a difference" via public service and satisfying careers. A bit pugnacious, perhaps, but always open to a solid conversation – high praise, indeed, for this fine couple.

THE HERO

Babe Ruth, the phenomenal baseball giant of the early twentieth century, had remarkable accomplishments. Two time All-Star selection, seven time World Series champion, member of Major League Baseball's All Century Team, voted Athlete of the Century by the Associated Press, named Greatest Baseball Player of the 20th Century by Sports Illustrated. But he was not always in the winning circle. He actually struck out twice as many times as he hit his crowd-rousing home runs. Near the end of his career the Braves were playing the Reds in Cincinnati. This day he was no hero. Often fumbling the ball and throwing badly, his errors were responsible for most of the five runs scored by Cincinnati.

As "the Babe" walked off the field heading toward the dugout after the third out, a crescendo of angry cries and boos rose to greet him. Then a boy jumped over the railing and ran onto the field. Tears were flowing down the boy's face as he threw his arms around the legs of his "hero."

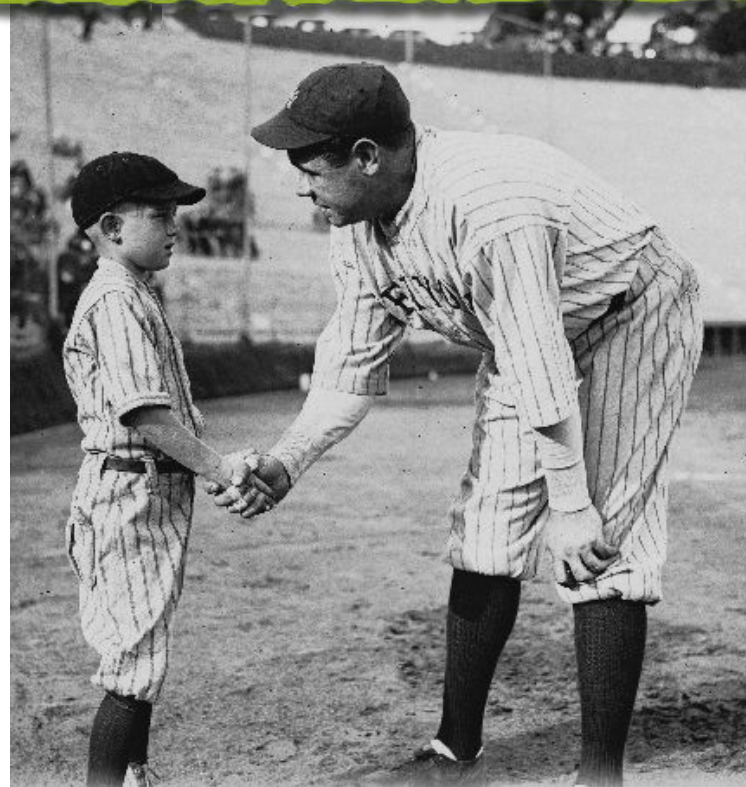

Without hesitating a second, Babe Ruth picked the boy up and hugged him. Then he sat down and patted his head. The cries from the crowd abruptly stopped and a hush fell over the ballpark. Those in the stands saw two heroes on the field that day! Babe Ruth, who in spite of his own dismal day in playing the game, accepted unexpected love from a fan; and a small boy who cared about another's feelings, especially those of his "hero."

This story gives us two examples to follow. We are sometimes like Babe Ruth. We fail more than we succeed. Our strikeouts often double our home runs. Too much we contribute to the success of those opposing us. Our errors account for the accomplishments of those against us. When we fail to keep the standards put upon us the reaction is loud and bitter. The response may be deeply negative.

In the midst of our failures not everyone boos. Some still hold us up as a "hero." Some share our brokenness and wrap us in their arms of acceptance and love. Some value us even when we are at our lowest. Look up into the face of anyone who expresses such caring and understanding.

And there's the example of the young boy. Around us are those, including our "heroes," who need an act of understanding acceptance. We can't be overwhelmed or paralyzed by reaction of others. Let's jump onto the field where they are struggling. A smile, an embrace, a tear may be all that is needed to get them through the difficulty.

And, like Babe Ruth, we should welcome those who look favorably upon us. Their actions can hush the noise and silence the opposition. They need our hugs and attention and appreciation.

Look at the wonderful challenge of II Corinthians 1:3-4, the "God of all comfort, who comforts us in our tribulations, that we may be able to comfort those who are in any trouble, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God." And also I Corinthians 15:58, "Be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

And it's been said, "No matter your performance on the playing field of life today, the Lord has a hug awaiting for you at the day's end. He is your Number One Fan."*

Leon Sanderson

Join vocalist Leon Sanderson accompanied by Joan Dodson on the piano for an evening of music and fellowship in the Lobby Friday, October 16 at 6:00 pm.

Oct 18 | Iris Orchestra

Few composers in history can rival the youthful genius of the young Felix Mendelssohn. The prolific output of his young teens laid the groundwork for the masterful Overture to A Midsummer Night's Dream, an astonishing tour de force of evocative orchestral imagery. Robert Schumann's first orchestral composition, his "Spring" Symphony No. 1, was revolutionary. Capping off the program, we welcome back our old friend, the brilliant pianist Jon Kimura Parker, in Rachmaninov's romantic Piano Concerto No. 2. Call the GPAC box office for tickets @ 751-7500. If you wish to purchase season tickets or have a group of 10 or more (tickets are 50% off) call Iris @ 751-7669. Bus leaves at 1:30
